Headline:
Mainly cloudy, some patchy rain.

Today:
Most seeing a rather cloudy day with some patchy light rain or drizzle, most persistent across northern coastal fringes. Best chance of seeing the limited brighter spells will be from Belfast southwards into county Down during late afternoon. Northwest breezes. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:
A rather cloudy evening and night with a few light showers appearing, but also some clear spells, these chiefly in the far south. Northwest breezes. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Thursday:
Mixed days weather with skies mainly cloudy bringing some isolated showers, mostly to north of Lough Neagh. Best of the limited bright or sunny spells in the south. Northwest breezes. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Turning unsettled with occasional rainbands crossing erratically from south and southwest from mid-Friday, turning heavy at times.
